

Contemporary Clay Minor

The Contemporary Clay minor will provide students the opportunity to explore several aspects of working in clay from the handmade to the mass produced, including utilitarian objects, unique sculptures and installations utilizing the multiple. Students learn a combination of hand-building, potter's wheel throwing, slip-casting, glazing and firing techniques as well as new 3-D and 2-D printing methods. Environmental and financial sustainability will also be emphasized.

Eligibility

The Contemporary Clay minor is open to all majors. Students must be on track in their major and in good academic standing, with fewer than 6 credits behind and a cumulative GPA of 2.0.

Required Courses

PRDS362	Beginning Ceramics	2.0
SCNG236	Ceramics (Sculpture)	2.0
	Ceramic Electives – Choose from:	12.0

CAIL200 Made in USA, PRDS464 Special Topics*, PRDS363 Intermediate Ceramics, SCNG236 Ceramics, and/or SCNG306 Genres*

Total Credits

16.0

Ceramics topics only. Topics change each semester. Can be taken more than once. See Fine Arts, Product Design and Liberal Arts and Sciences for course descriptions.*

Each enrolled student will receive an individual Academic Plan that outlines how this minor fits into their major.
